

Our mission is to develop models of entire living cells that are testable, readily understandable, and accessible to the community, broadly defined. They must engage and challenge the community, enable discovery and accelerate scientific insights.

*Interdisciplinary
Biological question as driver
Prior experience
Intact – whole cell -*